

Marina Tsvetaeva — One of the 20th Century's Most Powerful Poetic Voices, Now in Jazz

Thursday, October 23rd
6:00 PM - 7:00 PM
Sheepshead Bay Library

Marina Tsvetaeva (1892–1941)—a fearless voice of exile, love, and resistance—comes alive in this unforgettable live jazz concert.

Acclaimed Russian-American saxophonist and composer Lena Bloch brings Tsvetaeva's haunting poetry to life in an original jazz suite—rhythmic, emotional, and full of soul.

Performed by world-renowned NYC jazz artists:

Kyoko Kitamura – Avant-garde vocalist, improviser, and composer

Jacob Sacks – Thelonious Monk finalist pianist

Ken Filiano – Internationally acclaimed bassist

Michael Sarin – Renowned jazz drummer

Experience the legendary poet through sound—where verse meets rhythm, and resistance becomes music.

“My poems are my passport, they carry me across the world.”

— Marina Tsvetaeva
